Mobile

Mobile casinos weren't quite the rage back in 2010. Games dating back this far may not be expected to offer a great mobile experience. However, developments in technology have seen Gonzo's Quest receive a bit of a facelift. HTML5 technology means that this slot can not be enjoyed at mobile casinos.

Some Gonzo's Quest sites may need you to download a standalone app before you can play. Others offer instant play, where you can play directly through your mobile browser. You will find that all mobile devices are catered for so whether you have an iOS device or an Android one, you'll still be able to play. It is fair to say that the mobile playing experience is outstanding.

Design, sound, and graphics

NetEnt has a bit of a reputation when it comes to its slots. Any title that comes from this developer is expected to have the best graphics, great sounds, and outstanding design. Gonzo's Quest certainly doesn't disappoint. We loved the graphics and found the amount of detail that goes into the masks was great. We also enjoyed the amazing animation which sees Gonzo itching, checking his map, or generally being a nuisance.

The sounds are fantastic too. What you hear as the blocks come to a stop on the reels can only be described as satisfying. The sound of the exploding blocks is a great little extra to enjoy.
